

SIDNEE MOYER

Department of Sociology
University of Washington
216D Savery Hall
Seattle, WA, 98195

sidneem@uw.edu

EDUCATION

2025 anticipated M.A., Sociology, University of Washington
Thesis: "Uncertainty in Practice: The Effects of WPATH Guidelines on Treating Transgender Autistic Youth"

2022 B.A. with Honors and Distinction in Sociology, double major in Psychology, Wake Forest University Summa Cum Laude

RESEARCH AND TEACHING INTERESTS

Medical Sociology	Queer Studies	Ableism
Qualitative Methods	Discrimination	Health

FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS

2024 University of Washington Graduate Program Fellowship ($4,000)
2024 University of Washington Summer Research Grant ($2,000)
2021 Wake Forest Undergraduate Research URECA Fellowship ($5,000)

HONORS AND AWARDS

2022 Distinction in the Major (sociology), Wake Forest University
2022 Honors in the Major (sociology), Wake Forest University
2022 Summa Cum Laude, Wake Forest University, 2022
2022 Wake Forest University Community Engagement Award (nomination)
2018-2022 Wake Forest University Dean's List, all semesters

PUBLICATIONS AND IN PROGRESS PAPERS

Forth Moyer, S* and Brewer, A. "From Feeling to Function: How Pain Specialists Assess Pain Using New Best-Practices Guidelines" in Sociology of Health and Illness

Forth Moyer, S "Uncertainty in Practice: The Effects of WPATH Guidelines on Treating Transgender Autistic Youth"

Forth Moyer, S, Screening the Gaps: The Role of Consistent Healthcare in Cancer Prevention for Transgender Patients

*indicates first authorship

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

2024 "From Feeling to Function: How Pain Specialists Assess Pain Using New Best-Practices Guidelines" American Sociological Association Annual Meeting, Montreal, CA

PROFESSIONAL AND RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2022-2023 Research Administrator, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Carolina Population Center
2021-2022 Research Assistant for Dr. Alexandra Brewer, Wake Forest University Department of Sociology

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Department of Sociology, University of Washington (Teaching Assistant)
Introduction to Racial and Ethnic Health Disparities in the US (2023)
Introduction to Sociological Theory (2024)
Introduction to Social Psychology (2024)
Survey of Sociology (2024)

COMMUNITY/ACADEMIC SERVICE

2024-Present Honors Student Mentor
Met twice a month with honors sociology student to provide methodological feedback on their honors thesis
Provided resources and support to improve project
Developed and gave presentation to honors students on how to use the citation software, Zotero

2022 Research Volunteer, Housing Justice Now (HJN)
Gathered data on success of local supportive housing communities to develop guidelines for HJN
Participated in court support, allocating resources to tenants facing eviction, interpreting court decisions and directing individuals to legal aid
Organized and presented at community day to inform ~ 35 tenants about local aid groups

2019-2022 President, Volunteer Tutoring Organization V.O.I.C.E.S
Recruited and led a group of 50 volunteer tutors to work with elementary students in the community
Developed and maintained a list of teaching resources for tutors
Worked with Wake Forest University Financial services to secure a $1,000 budget for supplies and books for the students.
Delegated work and collaborated with other executive board members to ensure function of club
Improved student grades and enthusiasm for school.

SKILLS AND CERTIFICATIONS

- Proficient in NVivo, R, SPSS, Cayuse, eRA Commons, Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint
- CITI certified

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

- Member- American Sociological Association
- Trainee- University of Washington Center for Studies in Demography and Ecology
- Member- UAW Local 4121
- Member- Social Determinants of Health Working Group,